

Video Supplement Possibilities

1. TED Talks (technology, education, and design): ted.com USA
2. TEDEd (educational resources from the folks at TED): ed.ted.com
3. EDX (Harvard and MIT): <https://www.edx.org/>
4. Stanford Online: <https://online.stanford.edu/>
5. Coursera: <https://www.coursera.org/>
6. Ignite (5-minute informative talks, no more than 20 slides, all fields of knowledge): <http://www.ignitetalks.io/> USA
7. 99U (Adobe presentations in a TED Talks format, as most are; as you might imagine, this is focused on design, but includes leadership, productivity): 99u.adobe.com/talks USA
8. CYF (Capture Your Flag) (business, economy, education, healthcare, well-being) Captureyourflag.com USA
9. The RSA (Royal Society of Arts, Manufactures, and Commerce): thrsa.org British
10. Creative Mornings (all about creativity): <https://creativemornings.com/> USA (but global representation from cities around the world; see their schedule here: <https://creativemornings.com/themes>)
11. Video Lectures (free faculty lectures, keynotes addresses, interviews, events, and more): <http://videlectures.net/> (get free lectures from faculty from Yale, Oxford, Harvard, Stanford . . . you get the picture.
12. Idea City (gatherings in Toronto that feature multi-disciplinary speakers from around the world): <https://ideacity.ca/speakers/>. Canada
13. Big Think (culture, religion, innovation, writing, technology, education, and much more; six minute videos) cbigthink.com USA.
14. YouTube alternatives:
 1. The Open Video Project:
 2. Vimeo: Vimeo.com
 3. Reelin 'in the Years Productions (the leading commercial site for clips and full videos of "musical artists, entertainers, and history makers;" while one cannot access everything, one may click on one of the three main areas and link to YouTube archives): <https://reelinintheyears.com/> USA